Why helps BIM against construction chaos?

BIM is our digital principle for supply chains

„Blockchain Information Management considers peoples as the center, it moves continents as well as worlds.“

What is a Blockchain?

There is mainly a lack of a serious clearing regarding problems and risks. Very often we are confronted with plannings of low quality, insufficient communication, concerned craftsmen and changed specifications. Construction Site Management has no responsibilities - if there is any.

Blockchain is a Domino Chain.

„Planning of ressources regulates Domino-Chains in blocks of time, risiks, cost and tasks.“

What does Blockchain mean for supply chains?

Supply Chains are teams dealing with the structure out of quality, time, budget, deficiencies, changes, or acceptance. Every hand on deck can stop Domino-Effects. BIM-Methods are the basics for solution-oriented action, before Dominoes do fall.

What are BIM-Methods?

Blockchain Information Methods lead to the goals in a structured way. This is acceptance without defects up to economic operation.

*„No check valve in the potable water facilities?
Then BIM does not present any food.“*

What are advantages of Blockchain-Contracts?

Inacceptable long contracts are a disturbing thing of the past. The „contractual stew“ expects a constructive and voluntary work based on defined goals and principles.

Zebtec™ works based on a Blockchain Process. The reason is that supply chains do consist of people. Every human is like a Domino and a part of Domino-Chains with a decisive dynamic. Our BIM-Guide defines digital collaboration for operators, investors, engineers, craftsmen or builders.
